Where the data comes from:

You can set up multiple versions of this report if you have different courts hearing different case types. The report will search for events scheduled for the selected date, then look at the case type defined in the report settings as "caseType." It will then look at the types of relative as defined in the report settings as "relativeType" to include as people who may possible appear for the hearing as well as the names assigned to the case that may be appearing as defined as "role."

Report Settings:

There is no special set up required for this report.
